Handwashing

Washing your hands is an essential habit that helps keep you healthy by removing germs. Always wash your hands after using the toilet, before eating, and after playing outside. To wash your hands properly, wet them with clean water, apply soap, and scrub all parts, including between your fingers and under your nails, for at least 20 seconds. After washing, turn off the tap to save water and dry your hands thoroughly with a clean towel. Practising good hand hygiene not only protects you from getting sick but also helps prevent the spread of germs to others.

Community Helpers

Our community has many helpers who work hard to keep us safe and healthy. Three important community helpers are police officers, firefighters, and doctors.

Police Officers

Police officers keep our neighbourhoods safe. They wear a special uniform and a badge. They help prevent crime, solve problems, and make sure that everyone follows the law. Police officers also help people find lost things and guide them if they are lost. When there is an emergency, people can call the police for help by dialing 15.

Firefighters

Firefighters are brave people who help us during fires and other emergencies. They wear special suits and helmets to protect themselves from the heat. When there is a fire, firefighters quickly drive big red fire trucks to reach the place. They use water hoses and ladders to put out the fire and rescue people who may be in danger. Firefighters are always ready to help, no matter the time of day or night.

Doctors

Doctors help us stay healthy. They work in clinics and hospitals to take care of sick people. Doctors check patients, give them medicine, and tell them how to feel better. Some doctors also give vaccinations to protect people from diseases. If we have a bad cough, fever, or other sickness, we go to a doctor to get treated. Doctors work hard to keep everyone healthy and happy.

Our community is a safer and better place because of these community helpers. We should thank them for their hard work and respect what they do to help us all.

The Little Bird and the Helpful Gardener

One sunny morning, a small bird was flying through a beautiful garden filled with colourful flowers. Suddenly, the little bird accidentally pricked its wing on a sharp thorn. The bird was hurt and could not fly well. Feeling sad and helpless, it chirped softly for help.

A kind gardener, who was busy watering the plants, heard the little bird's cries. He gently picked up the bird, took out the thorn, and softly wrapped its wing with a small cloth. The bird felt much better and chirped happily. The gardener smiled and released the bird back into the garden.

The little bird wanted to thank the gardener, so it decided to stay near him. Every day, while the gardener worked, the bird sang cheerful songs to keep him happy. Over time, they became friends and helped each other in small ways. The gardener cared for the bird, and the bird filled the garden with its beautiful songs.
