

2

SOME AND ANY; INDEFINITE PRONOUNS

Some and Any

Some

Used in positive sentences or polite requests/offers.

For example:

 I'd like some tea.

 Would you like some help?

Any

Used in negative sentences and questions.

For example:

 I don't have any homework.

 Have you got any money?

Special Cases

Some

In questions when making requests/offers.

For example:

 Can I have some water?

Any

In positive sentences meaning "it doesn't matter which".

For example:

 You can take any bus.

No for Emphasis

No

Use no instead of not ... any for stronger emphasis.

For example:

👉 There isn't any bread —————> There's no bread!

Context	Some (Affirmative/Requests)	Any (Negative/Questions)
Positive Sentences	- I have some apples.	X (Not used in positive sentences unless "it doesn't matter which.")
Negative Sentences	X	- I don't have any money.
Questions	- Can I have some water? (Request)	- Do you have any books?
Emphasis in Negative Sentences	X	- There is no sugar left.
Offers	- Would you like some help?	X
Choice Doesn't Matter	X	- Take any seat.

I have some apples.

I don't have any apples.

Do you have any water?

Can I have some water?

Take any chair.

2.1 Circle the correct answer.

-  I've any / some water in my bag.
-  There aren't any / some computers in this room.
-  My mum eats an / some egg for breakfast.
-  Be careful! There's any / some ice on the road.
-  I don't have a / any pen. Can you lend me one?
-  My dad doesn't do any / some work at the weekends.
-  I've downloaded a / some new music onto my iPod.
-  Our teacher gave us any / some good advice before the exam.
-  I would like any / some rice for lunch.
-  I don't have a / any money in my pocket.

2.2 Complete the dialogue using some, any, a, or no.

-  Mum: We've _____ friends coming for dinner tonight.
-  Sami: Would you like _____ help?
-  Mum: I'm making spaghetti but there's _____ pasta in the cupboard.
-  Sami: OK. I'll buy _____ spaghetti. Do we need _____ other food?

 Mum: Let's think. I've _____ meat and tomatoes, but there are _____ drinks.

 Sami: I'll get _____ juice. What type would you like?

 Mum: Get _____ type. I don't mind.

 Sami: There's _____ time to waste. I'll go now.

2.3

Rewrite the sentences, replacing not ... any with no.

 There isn't any salt in my pasta.

There's no salt in my pasta.

 He doesn't have any equipment.

 There weren't any buses yesterday.

 There isn't any water in the pool.

 We don't have any time for shopping.

 I don't have any minutes on my phone.

 They don't have any ideas for the project.

 There aren't any snacks in the cupboard.

 She doesn't have any homework today.

 There wasn't any milk in the fridge.

Indefinite Pronouns

Indefinite pronoun

Indefinite pronoun refers to an unknown thing, person, or place.

For example:

 Someone is at the door.

 I can't find my book anywhere.

Structure

Some

Affirmative sentences.

For example:

 someone  somewhere  something

 Someone has eaten my sandwich.

 Sana is going somewhere.

 There is something wrong here.

Any

Negative sentences and questions.

For example:

👉 anyone

👉 anything

👉 anywhere

👉 Is anyone here?

👉 I cannot see anything on your table.

👉 She has not gone anywhere.

No & Every

Emphatic statements.

👉 no one

👉 nothing

👉 nowhere

👉 everyone

👉 everything

👉 everywhere

For example:

👉 No one has seen Ali.

👉 There is nothing to eat in the fridge.

👉 There is beauty everywhere on Earth.

Affirmative	Negative	Question
Someone is here.	There isn't anyone here.	Is anyone here?
I see something.	I don't see anything.	Do you see anything?
Let's go somewhere.	I can't go anywhere.	Can we go anywhere?

2.4

Fill in the blanks with someone, anyone, everyone, something, anything, anywhere, no one, or nothing.

 I can't find my book _____.

 I'd like _____ to drink.

 _____ likes pizza. It's delicious!

 Be quiet! Don't say _____.

 I need _____ to help me with this project.

 Is there _____ at the door?

 There's _____ wrong with my computer.

 Does _____ know where my phone is?

 The café is empty. There's _____ here.

 Can we go _____ quiet?

2.5

Circle the correct answer.

 I can't find my pen anything / anywhere.

 We'd like something / someone to drink.

 Everyone / Everywhere is looking at us.

 I'm bored. There's nothing / no one on TV.

 Can anything / anybody answer this question?

 They want to go something / somewhere in Europe for their holidays.

 I don't like exams. I always forget everything / everyone.

 All the cafés are closed. There's nowhere / nobody to eat.

 Be quiet! Don't say anything / anyone.

 Can someone / somewhere close the window, please?

 It wasn't funny. Nobody / Nothing laughed.

2.6 Complete these questions with indefinite pronouns (anything, anywhere, and anyone).

 Does _____ in your family do sport?

 Is there _____ to do sport near your house?

 Does _____ in your family play a musical instrument?

 Does anyone do _____ else?

 Is there _____ who can help you with your homework?

 Has _____ in your class been to another country?

 Does _____ know how to cook a special dish?

 Is there _____ you'd like to learn as a new hobby?

 Does _____ have an idea for the school project?

 Has _____ seen your missing book?