PRONOUNS

UNIT 2 PRONOUNS

Pronouns replace nouns and make sentences not repetitive.

Types of Pronouns

1) Subject Pronouns

Come at the place of subject in a sentence (e.g., I, we, you, he, she, it, and they).

Example:

- Ali plays football. —————> He plays football.
- My mother cooks delicious food. —————> She cooks delicious food.
- Sarah and Sofia speak fluently. —————> They speak fluently.

2) Object Pronouns

Come at the place of object (e.g., me, us, you, him, her, it, and them).

Example:

- I saw Sarah. —————> I saw her.
- She cooks biryani every Sunday —————> She cooks it every Sunday.
- They called Ali yesterday. —————> They called him yesterday.

3) Possessive Pronouns

Show relationship and ownership (e.g., mine, ours, yours, his, hers, its, and theirs).

Example:

- This book is Ali's. —————> This book is his.
- That car is Maria's. —————> That car is hers.
- These toys are the children's. —————> These toys are theirs.

4) Reflexive Pronouns

When the subject and the object of a sentence refer to the same person or thing, we use reflexive pronoun.

These pronouns end in -self (singular) or -selves (plural).

- List of Reflexive Pronouns:

- Singular: myself, yourself, himself, herself, itself
- Plural: ourselves, yourselves, themselves

- Uses:

- 1) To refer back to the subject:

Example: "I taught myself how to play the piano."

- 2) To show the subject did the action alone:

Example: The boy dressed himself.

- 3) With certain verbs:

Examples: enjoy yourself, prepare yourself, behave yourself

- Examples:

- He looked at himself in the mirror.
- She blamed herself for the mistake.
- We enjoyed ourselves at the party.
- The cat licked itself clean.
- They took care of themselves during the trip.

●Common Mistake to Avoid:

Reflexive pronouns should not be used in place of subject or object pronouns.

Incorrect: "Myself will handle the work."

Correct: "I will handle the work myself."

5. Intensive Pronouns

When a reflexive pronoun is placed soon after the subject, it is called an intensive or emphatic pronoun. It is used to intensify or emphasize the subject in a sentence.

●Examples:

- I myself fixed the broken chair.
- He himself admitted the mistake.
- They themselves organized the event.
- The president herself signed the document.

●Comparison

Reflexive Pronoun	Intensive Pronoun
He fixed the car himself .	He himself fixed the car.
She prepared herself for the exam.	She herself prepared for the exam.
