

UNIT
4

QUANTIFIERS

UNIT 4 QUANTIFIERS

Quantifiers are words that show quantity or amount. They are placed before nouns to answer "how much?" or "how many?"

Quantifier	Definition	Examples
Many, Few, A Few, Several	Used with nouns that can be counted (e.g., books, apples, chairs).	- She has many books on her shelf. - There are a few apples in the basket. - Several students completed their homework.
Much, Little, A Little,	Used with nouns that cannot be counted (e.g., water, milk, sugar).	- He doesn't have much time to waste. - There is a little milk left in the jug. - I need some sugar for my tea.
All, Enough, No, Plenty of, Any, Some	Used with both countable and uncountable nouns depending on the context.	- She has enough money to buy the gift. - There are plenty of chairs in the hall. - Do you have any questions?

EXERCISES

Exercise: 1

Complete the sentences with the correct quantifier (many, much, some, few, a little, several).

- 1) There isn't _____ water left in the bottle.
- 2) We invited _____ friends to the party.
- 3) He has only _____ pencils in his bag.
- 4) There are _____ apples in the fridge; let's make a pie.
- 5) She has _____ money, so she can't afford the book.
- 6) The teacher asked _____ students to stay back for extra help.
- 7) Would you like _____ milk in your tea?
- 8) He doesn't have _____ time to prepare for the test.
- 9) I saw _____ cats playing in the garden.
- 10) Can you lend me _____ sugar for my coffee?

Exercise: 2

Read the situation and make sentences.

Situation 1: Preparing for a Birthday Party

You are preparing for a birthday party. Use quantifiers to describe what you have or need.

Examples:

- 1) There are many balloons to decorate the room.
- 2) We need some plates and cups for the guests.
- 3) There is a little juice left; we need more.
- 4) I bought a few candles for the cake.
- 5) There is plenty of space for everyone in the hall.

Task: Write 5 more sentences using quantifiers.

Situation 2: Shopping for Groceries

You are shopping for groceries. Use quantifiers to describe what you are buying.

Examples:

- 1) I bought several apples and bananas for the week.
- 2) There isn't much sugar left at home.
- 3) I need some flour for baking.
- 4) There are a few vegetables in the basket.
- 5) We have enough milk for tomorrow.

Task: Write 5 more sentences using quantifiers.

Situation 3: Organizing a Picnic

You are organizing a picnic. Use appropriate quantifiers to describe what you need or what you have.

Examples:

- 1) We have some sandwiches packed.
- 2) There are a few bottles of water.
- 3) We need much more juice for the kids.

Task: Write 5 more sentences using quantifiers.

Exercise: 3

Complete the conversation with quantifiers.

A: How _____ time do we have before the train arrives?

B: Not _____, just about 10 minutes.

A: Do you have _____ coins for the vending machine?

B: Yes, I have _____.

A: Great! Let's get _____ snacks for the trip.

Game Activity Quantifier Hunt

Objective: Students identify whether a noun is countable or uncountable and then choose the correct quantifier.

Instructions:

- 1) Provide a list of nouns (e.g., water, chairs, sugar, students, milk).
- 2) Write quantifiers (some, many, a little, plenty of) on flashcards.
- 3) Students take turns picking a noun and matching it with an appropriate quantifier.