

UNIT
13

COMPOSITIONS

UNIT 13 COMPOSITIONS

Expository Writing

Expository writing is a form of writing that aims to inform, explain, clarify, or expound an idea to the reader in a clear and concise manner. The purpose is to present information about a topic systematically, without the writer's opinions, allowing the reader to understand the subject based on facts and logical explanations.

Structure of Expository Writing

The typical structure of expository writing includes the following components:

1. Introduction: This part introduces the topic and presents the thesis statement, which clearly states the purpose of the essay. It sets the stage for the discussion and informs the reader about what to expect.

2. Body Paragraphs: Each body paragraph should focus on a single point that supports the thesis statement. These paragraphs should include:

- Topic Sentence: Introduces the main idea of the paragraph.
- Supporting Details: Facts, examples, or data that explain and support the topic sentence.
- Transitions: Words or phrases that help connect the ideas from one paragraph to the next, ensuring a smooth flow of information.

3. Conclusion: This section summarizes the main points discussed and reinforces the thesis statement. It should provide a final perspective on the topic and might suggest actions, pose questions, or propose solutions.

Example of Expository Writing:

Neelum Valley: The Blue Gem of Azad Kashmir

Introduction: Neelum Valley, located in the northern part of Azad Kashmir, Pakistan, is renowned for its pristine beauty and serene landscapes. Often referred to as the "Blue Gem" of Azad Kashmir, this valley offers a picturesque canvas of crystal-clear rivers, lush green forests, and towering mountains. This essay explores the scenic beauty of Neelum Valley, its significance as a tourist destination, and the vital aspects of sustainable tourism within the region.

Body Paragraph 1: Topic Sentence: The natural beauty of Neelum Valley is both diverse and breathtaking. Supporting Details: Neelum Valley stretches over 200 kilometres, parallel to the greater Himalayan range. The valley is named after the Neelum River, which is famed for its vibrant azure color and is the backbone of the valley's ecosystem. The river meanders through the length of the valley, flanked by verdant forests and a mosaic of small villages. Key sights include the Shounter Pass, Ratti Gali Lake, and the towering peaks of Sharda and Kel, which offer mesmerizing views that attract photographers and nature enthusiasts from around the world.

Body Paragraph 2: Topic Sentence: Neelum Valley holds a significant place as a tourist destination in Pakistan. Supporting Details: The valley's natural environment provides a perfect setting for a variety of recreational activities such as trekking, fishing, and camping. Tourists are drawn to its remote beauty, which offers a stark contrast to the bustling cities. Local tourism boosts the economy, providing income for small businesses and promoting cultural exchange between visitors and residents. Festivals and local handicraft, such as woolen shawls and handmade jewellery, also play a crucial role in attracting tourism and enhancing the cultural experience of the visitors.

Body Paragraph 3: Topic Sentence: While tourism presents numerous opportunities for Neelum Valley, it also poses significant challenges that need to be addressed through sustainable practices. Supporting Details: The influx of tourists, especially during the peak seasons, poses threats to the natural environment, including waste management issues and deforestation for building accommodations. Sustainable tourism is essential to preserve the valley's natural beauty for future generations. Initiatives like eco-friendly lodges, promotion of local culture without exploitation, and environmental awareness campaigns can help mitigate negative impacts. The involvement of local communities in tourism planning and benefits distribution ensures that development efforts are inclusive and supportive of the valley's long-term ecological balance.

Conclusion: Neelum Valley is a jewel of natural beauty and cultural richness, deserving of its title as the Blue Gem of Azad Kashmir. However, the sustainable development of its tourism sector is crucial. By embracing responsible travel practices, promoting local businesses, and implementing environmental safeguards, Neelum Valley can preserve its pristine landscapes and vibrant culture, ensuring it remains a cherished destination for generations to come.

Writing Assignment:

1. Building the Karakoram Highway: Write about how the Karakoram Highway was built and why it is important for Pakistan and China. What are the good things that come from this road for the people and places it connects?

2. Life Along the Karakoram Highway: Describe what life is like for people living near the Karakoram Highway. How has the highway changed their daily lives and the way they do business?

3. Tourism in Neelum Valley: Discuss how tourism affects Neelum Valley. What are the good and bad sides of having many tourists visit this place?

4. The Culture of Neelum Valley: Write about the traditions and festivals of Neelum Valley. How do these cultural activities make Neelum Valley special for visitors and locals?

5. The Role of School Libraries in Modern Education: Explore how school libraries contribute beyond just being a place to borrow books. Discuss their role in digital literacy, support for curriculum requirements, and providing resources for diverse learning styles and needs.

6. Impact of Well-Designed School Libraries on Student Achievement: Analyze the correlation between the physical and aesthetic design of school libraries and student engagement and achievement. Include how elements like space layout, availability of resources, and ambient environment can influence reading habits and academic performance.

Persuasive Writing

Persuasive writing is a style of writing that aims to convince the reader to agree with the author's opinions or to take a specific action. This mode of writing uses arguments, reasoning, and sometimes emotional appeals to persuade the reader that the writer's viewpoint is valid or desirable.

Structure of Persuasive Writing

The structure of persuasive writing typically includes:

1. Introduction

- Hook: Captures the reader's attention.
- Thesis Statement: Clearly states the writer's position or argument.

2. Body Paragraphs

- Main Points: Each paragraph focuses on a single main point that supports the thesis, providing evidence, examples, and reasoning.
- Counterarguments: Addresses potential objections to the argument, demonstrating their consideration and refutation, which strengthens the overall position.

3. Conclusion

- Restatement of Thesis: Reinforces the thesis statement, summarizing the main arguments.
- Call to Action: Encourages the reader to act based on the arguments presented, reflecting the ultimate goal of persuasion.

Example of Persuasive Writing

Topic: The Importance of Recycling

Introduction: Imagine a world where our landfills are not overflowing and our environment is not suffocated by waste. Recycling is not just a way to reduce waste but a crucial step toward preserving our planet for future generations. In this essay, I will argue why recycling should become a mandatory practice for everyone.

Body Paragraph: Point 1: Recycling reduces the need for raw materials and saves energy. By recycling paper, plastic, and metal, we reduce the extraction of raw materials from the Earth, which helps preserve natural habitats and decrease energy consumption in manufacturing processes.

Counterargument: Some may argue that recycling is inconvenient and does not significantly impact environmental preservation. However, studies show that recycling can save over 700 million tons of CO₂ annually, equivalent to the emissions from 135 million cars.

Conclusion: As demonstrated, recycling is not just beneficial but essential for environmental sustainability. By making recycling mandatory, we can significantly decrease global waste and save energy. Let us all take responsibility for our planet and support mandatory recycling laws to ensure a healthier environment for our future.

Writing Assignment:

1. Why Everyone Should Plant a Tree Every Year: Persuade your readers about the benefits of each person planting a tree annually. Explain how this simple action can help reduce the effects of deforestation, improve the air we breathe, and support wildlife.

2. The Importance of Recycling to Save Forests: Make a case for why recycling paper and wood products is crucial in fighting deforestation. Discuss how recycling can lessen the demand for raw materials from forests, thus preserving natural habitats and reducing waste.

3. Why We Should Create More Protected Forest Areas: Argue for the need to designate more forest areas as protected zones. Explain how these protected areas help maintain biodiversity, prevent habitat loss, and ensure that forests can continue to combat climate change by absorbing carbon dioxide.

4. Regulating Social Media to Prevent Misinformation: Argue for stricter regulations on social media platforms to control the spread of misinformation. Persuade your readers that such regulations are necessary to maintain public discourse's integrity and protect democracy.

5. Encouraging Responsible Social Media Use: Persuade audiences that individuals must adopt responsible social media usage habits to reduce the negative impacts on mental health and societal polarization. Highlight strategies for responsible use, such as limiting screen time and diversifying information sources.

Formal letter writing (sample)

• Write a letter to the editor of a newspaper about the water shortage in your locality.

[Your Address]

House No. 45, Block C,
Gulshan-e-Iqbal, Karachi.

Date: February 11, 2025

The Editor,

The Daily Dawn,
Karachi.

Subject: Water Shortage in Our Locality

Respected Sir/Madam,

I am writing to draw the attention of the concerned authorities to the serious issue of water shortage in our locality, Gulshan-e-Iqbal, Karachi. For the past few weeks, residents have been facing extreme difficulties due to irregular water supply. Many households are not receiving water for days, and people are forced to buy expensive water from private tankers.

This problem has caused great inconvenience, especially for families with children and elderly members. It is becoming difficult to manage daily chores like cooking, cleaning, and washing. The authorities need to take immediate action to ensure a regular water supply for all residents.

I request you to publish this letter in your esteemed newspaper so that the relevant officials are alerted and take necessary steps to solve this issue.

Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

[Your Name]

Ahmed Ali

This letter follows the proper structure:

1. Sender's Address
2. Date
3. Recipient's Designation and Address
4. Subject Line
5. Salutation
6. Body of the Letter (Introduction, Explanation, Request)
7. Closing
8. Signature and Name

Writing Assignments:

Letter Writing:

1. Write a letter to the editor highlighting the problem of garbage and waste management in your neighbourhood.
2. Write a letter to the editor expressing concern over the lack of playgrounds and sports facilities for children in your area.
3. Write a letter to the editor about the increasing noise pollution due to traffic in your city.

Application Writing:

1. Write an application to the principal of your school requesting leave to attend a family wedding.
2. Write an application to the principal of your school requesting the opening of a canteen on the school premises.
3. Write an application to the principal requesting permission for a school trip to the museum.